

Wall of Song

BUILDING A DIFFERENT KIND OF WALL

Join us in a massed singing of Leonard Cohen's Hallelujah

Organized by artists Mel Day & Michael Namkung

Tuesday, July 25, 2017
7-9pm

Grace Cathedral
1100 California Street
San Francisco

Wall of Song is a collaborative singing video work by artists Mel Day and Michael Namkung that invites people from all different backgrounds, beliefs, political affiliations, orientations and countries of origins—no matter their ability to carry a tune—to record themselves singing along to Leonard Cohen’s Hallelujah. In this time of great unknowing, uncertainty and division, this is a wall that brings us together.

Immediately following Yoga, at 7:30 pm, the artists will lead everyone in singing together, followed by a screening/installation of the combined choir video work. The artists invite you to add your voice to the work before the event by singing online at wallofsongproject.com. There will also be several private singing booths throughout the cathedral, giving attendees the opportunity to add their voices and faces to future installations of the project.
